

Merging pixels 4:1 shrinks the offset — the direction the per-pixel mechanism requires, though by less than pure Poisson scaling predicts the offset, at two pixelisations expected shrinkage vs observed

